- That the health of my patients will be my first consideration.
- That I will respect the secrets which are confided in me and that I will maintain by all means in my power the honor and the noble traditions of the medical profession.
- That I will not permit considerations of religion, nationality, race, party politics or social standing to intervene between my duty and my patient.
- That I will maintain the utmost respect for human life, from the time of conception; even under threat, I will not use my medical knowledge contrary to the laws of humanity.
- That I make these promises solemnly, freely and upon my honour.
